How Art Therapy Makes a Difference

Expressive therapies allow children to feel safer in a therapy environment as they draw or play out their feelings. Nonverbal and young children can express themselves through creative play, which is vital to begin the healing process.

About Stanford Home for Children

Spanning more than 100 years, Stanford Home for Children is a visionary organization working to ensure all children are safe, healthy and connected to family so they can dream, overcome and thrive. Combining a family-centered approach to care with solutions focused on results, Stanford Home provides a comprehensive array of programs that help Sacramento County's at-risk families regain self-confidence, rise above challenges and rebuild their lives.

About Raphael Delgado

Sacramento artist Raphael Delgado thrives on vivid colors and complex line patterns, creating his own language of rhythm, motion and fluid energy. Raphael is a dedicated supporter of family and community. In 2008 he and his family founded the Crayons to Canvas Art Supply Drive benefitting Stanford Home for Children's developing art therapy program.

Special Thanks to Art Ellis Supply and Rudy's Hideaway for supporting Crayons to Canvas!
